The committee discussed the following items: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • There is a need to identify what classes have a research component/assignment. Using the course ID may not provide a comprehensive list. It is not obvious as to which classes have required student research. • One possible way to identify courses that have a research component/assignment/requirement is to explore WebCMS. • There would need to be system in place for tracking which faculty have completed training and which faculty are due for a refresher course training. CITI training does have refresher courses imbedded. Other discussion points regarding CITI training included: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The required training would provide a legal platform in the case something goes wrong with student research. • CITI training probably would not be too time consuming. • Patty and John should possibly schedule a meeting with the Dr. Garcia, President about this AP and get a sense of what she would want to do. • IRB only deals with research that happens outside of the classroom, so classroom research is out of the IRB purview. Requiring faculty training would put us in a gray area. • Perhaps we can start off by offering PGI increments to get a sense of what the buy-in would be and how open faculty would be to completing CITI training. Would it be possible to develop a checklist or research best practices sheet to provide faculty in the meantime. Patty can start a document and bring back to IRB for feedback. John, Misty, and Patty have a meeting with a representative from CITI training. They will report out at the next IRB meeting. The committee decided not to take a formal vote on requiring faculty training until there is more information about CITI training and available modules.
